Hiebert Explains

A large audience was present in the Opera House on Monday night to hear C. Hiebert ex-M.P.P., give a rough outline of his work in the Legislature for the past four years and also his reasons for the stand he had taken according to reports in outside press.

Mr. Hiebert opened the meeting with a neat apology for not having called more meetings of the electors in the last four years, and said that he had done the best he knew how to represent them in an independent spirit and tried to take up the questions of the day as they came along, to the best of his ability, and some points and suggestions which he had made had been adopted.

Amongst these had been the grants to the sugar beet industry, the coyote hounds which the government has now put on the statute books until the coyotes are exterminated, and has received a promise from the government that they will give free toll to rural telephones connected with towns within 20 miles. He also stated that he had advocated railways at every session, and the first meeting held to discuss them was at Three Hills in his constituency, the consequence was the government had arranged for building such railways. He said that perhaps this did not benefit this district directly but would eventually raise the value of the land. The government had also granted $1000 for a court-house site in Didsbury and a court-house would be built within two years.

The much talked of interview with the Bulletin and his statement in the house was next taken up.

Mr. Hiebert said that he intended to stay by what he had said in the press and stated that where such diversified interests were concerned, especially with the enormous support the opposition had, he had done fairly well, if he had got into the same position last year, he would have come home at once and resigned, but as it was condition did not warrant it with the elections coming on so soon. He spoke of the inconsistency of members who felt that a certain thing was right and then allowed themselves to be whipped into line by party leaders, which he had seen done. The Conservative convention was going to appoint a committee of three to examine him and he thought that this was an insult as what he could not say in public he would not say in private. He thought the day would come when the people would recognize that partisanship was not good for the country and that partisan government would be out of date. These were the reasons he gave for breaking away from partisanship.

A resolution for a vote of thanks to Mr. Hiebert for his straightforward stand in the Legislature in the last four years was put and carried by a show of hands.

No End To Eczema

EXCEPT BY ACTIVE AND PERSISTENT TREATMENT WITH THE GREAT ECZEMA CURE, Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

When left to itself, eczema runs on indefinitely, causing keen distress from itching and covering the body with sores that refuse to heal.

Even with careful treatment, eczema is obstinate in yielding to curative measures, but the regular and persistent use of Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most certain means known of overcoming this torturing disease.

Mrs. Robert Clendenning, Welland Station, Ont., writes:—

"For three years my daughter, Fanny, was afflicted with eczema in an intense and persistent form, and for nine days she was totally blind. The burning, itching and discomfort were horrible, her entire face being completely raw for months, and the distress so great that she could not sleep.

"The best efforts of two eminent physicians failed to even mitigate her awful suffering. One day when I was heart-sick over my daughter's condition, Dr. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me and to my surprise, Fanny was helped with the first box and she has since been entirely cured by this treatment.

"Her face is now as smooth as a baby's, and she is in perfect health. The credit for this cure is entirely due to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I cheerfully give you my personal endorsement of its value. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, Mrs. Robert Clendenning, Welland Station, Ont., Canada.

There are a score of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment with its extraordinary soothing, itching properties is useful in every home. It costs a box, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Pursuit of Knowledge.

In commenting on the largely increased attendance at the science research department of Pratt Institute the annual bulletin gives some instances of the eagerness of the students to make the most of their time and opportunities. "More than once," says the report, "a man has come from a distance and worked here all afternoon and even into the night and did not even stop for dinner, but explained that when he had a chance to work here he did not spend time eating."—N. Y. Tribune.

While more prevalent in winter, when sudden changes in the weather try the strongest constitutions, colds and coughs and ailments of the throat come in any season. At the first sign of derangement use Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Instant relief will be experienced, and use of the medicine until the cold disappears will protect the lungs from attack. For anyone with a throat or chest weakness cannot be over-emphasized.

Try watering your horses before feeding in the morning, thus slaking their thirst and at the same time washing their stomachs ready to receive the morning feed, where, being properly moistened with saliva it will remain until thoroughly digested.

"For the past four years we have been calling for 'Ales blue,'" remarked the physician's wife; "but now I suppose 'Taffeta' will be the most popular."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Canadians in England.

The best notice debater in the British House of Commons is a Canadian, Mr. Bonar Law, who fought the Government. He will shoot up at the end of a week's debate and will out a single note before him, with only the faces of his opponents and the cold, bare top of the brass-bound box to encourage him, he will pick up by one all the arguments of all his opponents on all the previous days, and will carefully, minutely, and crushingly answer them. But let me say one word of the great challenge one of Mr. Bonar Law's quotations. He has eight or nine pockets. Quick as thought he dives a hand into a pocket. Always the right pocket. He pulls out a cutline. Always the right cutline. He reads out an extract which makes the interrupter sorry he spoke.

Another superlative is Dr. Macnamara, also a Canadian. He is the greatest speaker in the House of Commons. All was a great pile they put him on the Government bench, where responsibility and office sometimes strike the best things men can do in the way of debate. Yet he deserved the honor more than most.

New Idea in Tuberculosis.

Some particulars are given in the British Medical Journal of a proposal to provide an ocean sanatorium for tuberculosis. The suggestion is to fit up a sailing ship of about 2,000 tons for not less than fifty patients, each to be provided with a large and well-ventilated cabin. The deck would be provided for what the doctors called the ventilated treatment. The intention of the promoters is that the ship shall cruise in the neighborhood of the Canaries, where it will have the advantage of the trade winds and of an equable climate, while a port will be far distant in case of the onset of bad weather.

This was in response to an inquiry from the Dr. T. A. Sloum, Ltd., as to whether the remarkable testimony given by Mrs. Wilson on May 27, 1904, still held good. At that time she said: "Some twelve years ago I was taken ill with a severe cold on my lungs. Night after night I was compelled to sit up all night to relieve myself of the pain in my lungs. For two years I doctored continually with three different doctors, but received no help whatever. A friend advised me to try your medicine, and I did so. Within two months from taking PSYCHINE I gained 30 pounds, and my health rapidly grew better and in a short time I was quite well. Today I am as healthy as ever and owe my life to Dr. T. A. SLEEPING DRAUGHTS AND SOOTHING MIXTURES

A wise mother will never give her little one a sleeping draught, soothing mixture or opiate of any kind except upon the advice of a competent doctor, who has seen the child. All these things are certain deadly poisons. When you give your baby or young child Baby's Own Tablets you give him the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine does not contain one particle of opiate or narcotic, and therefore cannot possibly do harm—but always do good. Mrs. Geo. M. Kempf, Carleton Place, Ont., says: "I have given Baby's Own Tablets to my baby since he was two weeks old. He was a very small thin baby, but thanks to the Tablets he is now a big, fat, healthy boy." Ab Wing Lee was walking down Chestnut street the other morning when a dog ran up behind him, yelping and barking horribly. The end of the Celestial's pigtail rose in the breeze as he leaped aside in great alarm.

"Come, my friend, you need not be afraid. The dog won't hurt you. Don't you know the old proverb, 'A barking dog never bites?' Surely you do."

"That's all very good," interrupted Ab Wing doubtfully. "You know plover and ne know plover, but do dog know plover?"—Philadelphia Press.

"Do you desire my professional advice?" said the specialist to the steady visitor.

THE "MAGIC CIRCLE."

Professional and Amateur Wizards

Take Dinner Together.

About 160 professional and amateur wizards attended a banquet of the "Magic Circle," held at Fraser's Restaurant in London a few days ago. Before the banquet had proceeded beyond the entire course the amateurs were already practicing their black art to the consternation of the waiters. A gigantic and terribly realistic spider was released in some mysterious manner, and after hovering over a table, pounced upon a dish which was being borne in triumph by a waiter with the result that the latter very nearly dropped the delicacy. Mr. Nevill Macleay, who presided, said that the "Magic Circle" had been founded with a view to elevating the art of magic and raising the status of magicians as a class.

The principal aim of the "Magic Circle," he said, "is to bring about a clearer knowledge of the truth; to prove, in fact, that a magician may bring to the service of his art as much intelligence, as much skill, as much education, and as much artistic capability as any other artist. Indeed, the services to humanity freely and constantly rendered by magicians, in the form of entertainment, for the public safety, are without parallel in any other artistic calling."

Highest Rewards Ever.

The trade of writing, as well as the profession of letters, is much more highly paid in the twentieth century than ever before in the history of the world, and the rewards for both merit and genius promise to be larger in the future than they are at the present. As captains of industry bring to the world's service their intelligence, as much skill, as much education, and as much artistic capability as any other artist. Indeed, the services to humanity freely and constantly rendered by magicians, in the form of entertainment, for the public safety, are without parallel in any other artistic calling."

Not Replaced.

When old Tobias left the house in which he had lived for forty years and departed with all his household goods and treasures at the home of his son there was trouble. One of those treasured family heirlooms was missing—a big family album bound in full calf. Perkins was in considerable of a fix. "I used it for years," he said, "and I wouldn't 'ave lost for worlds."

"Never mind," said his son, "we'll see what can be done about it." And from that day he commenced saving up his money until he had sufficient to buy a new album, bound in leather with a crimson plush, with great brass clasps, which he presented to his father, naturally expecting an outburst of thanks. But no. On seeing it the old man's jaw fell to an alarming degree. Then he bowed his withered fist on the table with a force that simply staggered young Perkins. "In the name of goodness, man," he roared, "who could stoop a razor on that?"

Her Little Toes Out Of.

A few days ago the discovery was made upon the death of Miss La Blanche, who died of injuries received while performing at the Toronto Exhibition, which showed how typically French she was. Her costume as an acrobat demanded that she wear the dainty pointed French shoes which have become so customary that the public demand them. Miss La Blanche, in order that she might wear the little shoes and conform to custom, had had the little toe of each foot removed.

"When I began your treatment my head was terrible. I had burning and chirping noises in my head. I followed your advice faithfully and took Peruna as you told me. Now I might say I am well."

Letters to the Taxpayers and Voters of Didsbury Didsbury, March 1st, 1909.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PIONEER:

Sir:—As we see that the Council of Didsbury is renewing By-law No. 52, that was voted on and turned down on December 21st, 1908, and at the town meeting in the Opera House on Monday night, January 18th 1909. The feeling of that meeting was that no debenture debt should be placed on the town at present. It seems that there are members in that Council determined and defying the taxpayers and treating their votes with contempt by trying to put the town more in debt against their wish and their vote, hoping that the taxpayer will vote the debenture down again on Friday next, March 5th, 1909, and do their duty to themselves. The By-law says that the total indebtedness of the town is $1,551.49.
The Town Clerk's report gives, owing the bank $1550.00. Then the Finance Committee finds the total indebtedness of the town to be $1,735.89 with a possible collection of $1,000.00 in the uncollected taxes leaving a total balance of debts if these taxes are collected in full, still leaving a debt of $735.89. Then we have our chairman of the Finance Committee's report. He says that the town's debt is $1,551.49.
All the reports are different. It seems it appears that no one knows the true debt of the town and that the $688.83 in the by-law is misleading the taxpayers and voters. However, you remember voting it down on December 21st, 1908, and vote it down again on Friday next, March 5th 1909. We are in debt enough and we have a tax big enough. In thanking you for space in your next issue.

Yours Truly, A TAXPAYER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PIONEER:

Sir:—From the talk of the man on the street, there seems to be a good deal of uncertainty about the exact position of the town's finances and the consequent uncertainty as to what should be done with the borrowing by-law soon to be placed before the electorate. Personally I am inclined to see the interest which has been aroused, as without such interest, intelligently directed the town government can never get its best results. I am sure that the largest in the town is for this interest and hence this letter.

The uncertainty seems to centre about the amount of the debt. I am inclined to think that the debt of a town may be one of two kinds, bonded or current. The first is that created by the sale of debentures payable over a more or less extended period or by purchases, the payment of which are by law spread over a term of years.
While the whole amount is a debt, only a portion is payable in any one year.
The other, the current debt is the debt incurred in the running expenses of the town. Such a debt is provided for by the ordinance, but in the contemplation of the ordinance it was incurred. The money borrowed each year, and when MUST be borrowed each year, also taxes can come in in the last two or three months of the year. Such a debt, if it should only be used for running expenses of the town, such as salaries, trifling repairs to streets and sidewalks and other incidental expenses. The money borrowed on capital account however, should be used in more permanent improvements from which we in future and any who may become citizens will reap a benefit. As they repay the benefit it is fitting that they should help pay for the price and therefore in all systems of civic government it is planned that the payments for such improvements should be spread over a term of years.

Now to come to the hearing of all this upon the present state of affairs the men who have been financing the town during the past two years, partly no doubt from a transitory wish to go slow in the matter of creating a bonded debt, and partly from the badness of the debenture market sold no debentures, but paid out of current taxes or rather from money borrowed for works of a permanent nature, which should have been paid out of the sale of debentures. As instances of transitory actions of this kind I might point out the purchase of the town lots, the sidewalks laid in different parts of the town and the grading and graveling of Railway Street.

When the taxes did not come in in large enough quantities to pay the advance from the bank, the consequence was that the current debt had to be carried over, once and again and it now amounts to a debt of about $1,500 and it will have to be carried over from year to year unless it is paid in either of two ways, by selling debentures, or by putting up the tax rate high enough to pay all the current expenses and the current debt as well. And if the latter course is chosen, let me not anyone think that the increased vote is a matter for one year only. Other necessary improvements will have to be done and the question will arise again, and again, There has been some talk about prospective residents being frightened away by a large debenture debt with all due deference this is nonsense.

What affects the resident prospective in actual is the amount of money he has to pay out of his pocket each year in the shape of taxes. The surest way to frighten away residents is to raise the rate to the maximum or nearly there which will have to be done, unless debentures are sold.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor for your space, upon which I fear I have trespassed unreasonably. I am

Respectfully yours,

TAXPAYER.

February 27th, 1909

EDITOR OF THE PIONEER:

Sir:—I would like to give you a little space in your paper as I wish to call the attention of the taxpayers of Didsbury to a few facts as I understand them. I am sure you will be interested in the business and the actions of the present Town Council.

We will go back to the first meeting of the present council in regard to the fire-fighting apparatus. It was only short time before this meeting that there was an election held for the purpose of passing a money by-law. One of those by-laws started out thiswise:

"To authorize the Council to provide for fire protection," The council then went on in the manner in which this provision should be provided. It was present when the votes were counted and there was 39 for and 25 against and it was supposed this by-law had carried but I was informed that it took two thirds majority vote to pass.
In this case the majority was to pass the people and the people voted against the so-called fire protection. Now what did the Council do at their very first meeting? They tried to bring up this question of fire protection and I understand that only for the expiration of time the chemical engines could have been bought that night. I attended the next meeting and the question came up. There was a Mr. English present an agent representing another chemical engine firm and gave quite a lecture on fire fighting apparatus, and the council decided to wait a short time and have a meeting of the ratepayers called to get their feeling on the matter before buying any of the councilors did not feel like going ahead and the people had voted the by-law down. Did they wait until after this meeting? I guess not, there was a hurry-up meeting called and the Council got together and the engines were bought and ordered the same night, and when the ratepayers met they protested that the engines were ordered and the question asked them was how do you want to pay for them and not want any views on fire protection or fire fighting apparatus. I never saw any more of the affair conducted in this high handed style before, and it seems to me Mr. Editor that it is high time that the taxpayers demand of their servants to do their bidding.
I don't believe in the created being more powerful than their creator and I am sure Mr. Editor, then I will close. Some time ago the chairman of the Finance Committee had a communication in the Pioneer to the ratepayers and therein it is stated that there is an indebtedness against the town of $1,551.49 and then the council in getting out By-law No. 52 in last week's paper state the indebtedness to be $688.83. Now there has been so many different statements in regard to town affairs that it is hard for the common citizen to tell just where we are at. (Parade the stand.) As for voting on By-law No. 52 I will say that I can't conveniently sit it, but must vote against it, if we are going to throw money away building dog kennels and chicken coops, let's pay it out of our pockets and not borrow money for such a purpose, and leave it to our posterity to pay. I will say further to all taxpayers that have the good of our little town at heart to vote against this by-law on March 5th, let's not cover our property with debt until people won't come to our town. We have a pretty heavy debt now in the school. Ah, I hear someone say that is the school district debt, but pray who are the school district? Well, the town of Didsbury are about two-thirds of the school district, consequently the ratepayers of the town will pay about two-thirds of that $28,000 debentures against the school. And now Mr. Editor thank you in advance and hoping this may not find the waste paper basket.

I am, Yours truly,

B. A. STCLAIR.

[We think that Mr. Stclair has been misinformed about the Council purchasing fire apparatus the first night they met. The motion was made to discuss the matter when time was called. There was no suggestion made at the next meeting to wait for a town meeting before buying these engines, this suggestion was made afterwards and was not for the purpose stated but
Council to erect a town hall, as there was a decided difference of opinion in the matter amongst the Councilors.
Again, he says there was a hurry-up meeting called, as all special meetings are, by a majority request of the Councilors and the regular two days notice was given.]

As far as the town indebtedness is concerned we think this has been fully explained in the preceding columns. For the benefit of those taxpayers who may not understand the question we would say that in the by-law the village debenture debt of $28,000 and the park indebtedness of $18,833 is included in the balance of the debt on the town is a current debt and cannot be included as a debenture or three year payment debt which has to be paid by the present council either by raising the tax rate or selling the debentures asked for to meet current year expenses and paying off the other debt out of current taxes. Ed.]

Sunday School Lesson

CONDUCTED BY REV. T. D. JONES

March 7th, 1909.

Correspondence is invited upon any lesson, or points of difficulty. Address to Sunday School, Pioneer Office, Didsbury.

Golden Text, St. John 5: 30. "Search the scriptures: for in them ye shall ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me."

Lesson, Acts 1: 24-40. "Philip and the Ethiopian."

(1) Philip is ordered to Gaza. (Verse 26) Philip had been very successful in Samaria, yet is directed to go to a desert. This would surely test his faith and his confidence. Few men are prepared to leave home in which they have achieved great results to go to places where the smallest gain or success possible. God knows that the same possibilities of the quiet lonely work and if a man's steps are ordered by the Lord, his work will issue forth into results undreamed of. What ought we to do when the Lord summons us?

(2) He arose and went. (Verse 27) Here we observe the childlike trust of the evangelist. He can well afford to follow where God's lead. Apparent failure may be amazing success. Let us not despise the individual heart to heart talks or think them vain. Further consider what is the supreme worth of a man. What are the possibilities of the nature with which he is endowed, and labour to save the nature to its best. Ought we not at all times unquestioningly to obey the voice of God? Does not God call us to a test which we ought to do? Can we disobey God and yet do our best work?

(3) Philip meets the Ethiopian. (Verse 27-29) The Eunuch was no doubt a proselyte to the Jewish faith, for he went to Jerusalem to worship. To him Philip is sent. He is not said to have hesitated, and he does not seem to have longed for the plaudits of the crowd. A man's best work is seldom his public work. Worth in work has reference to quality and can only be estimated in terms of spirit. If the spirit in which work is done is low and mean, the worth of the work is also low and mean. If work be done from lofty motives then the work will be of eternal value. I fail to see any real difference between the work of the saint who teaches thousands and the work of the Sunday school teacher impressing holiness upon a few scholars. The one does personally reach thousands, the other may through the scholars reach thousands too. Both aim at the same thing, the salvation of souls. What is the difference in the work of the Physician and the Scavenger? Both seek the same end, viz the health of the community. Even taking human standards of judgment, who is of the greatest value to a people, he who prevents disease or he who cures it? What then is it that gives value to our work? Given our humble tasks, what is the spirit in which we ought to perform them.

(4) Philip expands the scripture. The verses quoted from Isaiah have reference to the uncomprehending attitude of the faithful few who worshipped Jehovah during the captivity in Babylon. This remnant of Jehovah worshippers were tormented, not only by their captors, but also by the apostate of their own nation. So truly did they suffer that they have become the figure of Him "who came not to be served, but to serve, and to give His life a service for many." What did Philip do with the passage? Did he do wrong in applying the passage thus?

(5) Verses 35 and 38. The Ethiopian is baptised. What is baptism? Is it essential to salvation? What does baptism signify in any case? Is it the only barrier?

(6) Verses 39-40. Philip still preaches Jesus and is again given the opportunity of addressing the crowds. Meanwhile the Eunuch does a wonderful work in Ethiopia.

Ghost Pine

The last Presbyterian service was held at Mr. Reed's on Sunday, the 14th of February. Hereafter the minister will speak in the school house about one and a half miles east of Mr. Reed's. The change is the result of a sudden activity which has been awakened in the whole neighborhood around the Ghost Pine. The vote, taken the last Sunday in January gave and overwhelming majority in favor of the change. The minority which consisted of most of the regular attendants were firm in the stand they took, but were so far outnumbered, that they had practically no voice in the matter at all. Although a great deal may be said on both sides of the question, the fact that so many were in favor of the change, shows that time was ripe for a step towards improvement. It is a well recognized fact that the true christian can worship as well in the lonely homes of the poor as in the million dollar churches of the rich, and that those who come to church for the sake of the sermon can get as much good out of the sermon in the one place as in the other. Nevertheless those in whom church dignity has firm footing and whose satisfaction in worship is much hampered by humble surroundings. It is hoped that these people will be reached now that the change is made, and that they will attend more regularly, and that they will feel more at ease in the schoolhouse. If this is achieved, the objects of missionary work will be accomplished. For we must remember that Christ came into the world not for the sake of the righteous, but to save sinners. The old place of worship was perhaps more convenient for the missionary, as he has to take a busy lunch after service and hurry on to his next appointment. But Mr. Warwick is always careful to keep his own advantages in the background. He is here as a missionary with thoughts only for his people, and it is his pleasure to comply with their wishes. Much more might be said in favor of the move, but it is unnecessary in view of the result of the vote, for every man, woman and child over five years of age with the exception of about a dozen, voted for the change. It is to be hoped that the present enthusiasm will be a lasting one, and that the expectations will be fully realized.

BreadYou can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of a case of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will occasionally take a little Dipsapin after eating.Your meals will taste good, and a little Dipsapin that you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, Indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Biliousness, Heartburn, Waterbrash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown when this effective remedy is used. Dipsapin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. Each triangle will digest all the food you can eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour.Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Dipsapin from your druggist and start taking today and by tomorrow you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.
